

Foods Co. Markets Set Celebration

As a special treat for the youngsters during this holiday season, Foods Co. Markets and the other stores in the Rolling Hills Plaza Shopping Center are bringing in 10 rides from the Crafts Shows of North Hollywood.

To be featured will be the gigantic 80-foot high double ferris wheel recently featured at the Seattle World's Fair. The "Skywheel," as it is called, together with all the rides, will be operated at "half price" through the courtesy of the Foods Co. and other stores in the center.

Simply pick up discount tickets at any of the stores, present them to the ticket booths and when you are purchasing your ride tickets, and you will receive two tickets for 25 cents instead of one.

Other rides to be featured will be the new "Twister," and the "Meteor," both rides were among those featured at Seattle. Then there will be the usual ferris wheel, merry-go-round, roller coaster and other rides for the small fry.

The show will be in the parking lot for six days, starting Wednesday, Dec. 26, and continuing through New Year's Eve.

Agents Hold Annual Event

The Presidential suite of the Plush Horse Inn was the scene of a Christmas party for the South Bay Insurance Association.

Membership Chairman Les Brown of the Palos Verdes Insurance Agency arranged details of the party. The association was host to a number of prominent guest insurance agents. Among the guests were James Post, William Beckman, Earl Lloyd, Edward Stogsdale, Robert English and Charles Huber.

Members and guests enjoyed an evening of fun while discussing mutual insurance problems and ideas for a new advertising campaign to help acquaint the people of the South Bay with the necessity of proper insurance coverage.

The association's regular monthly meeting for December was held at the Windjammer Restaurant. President Blayne Asher announced two new chairmen: Paul Garber of Garber and Associates in Manhattan Beach, was appointed program chairman and Ray O. Wenger Jr. became chairman of a committee to research driver training programs in the South Bay area and report to the membership in January.

On the South Bay Insurance Association agenda for both December and January meetings is the future public relations program of the group. This discussion will be under the guidance of past president Tom Glenn of T. Glenn Company, Manhattan Beach.
